About Archway Community Services

Registered in 1969, Archway Community Services (formerly known as Abbotsford Community Services) is a non-profit, multi-service, multi-funded community-based social service agency. We provide services in Abbotsford, Mission, Chilliwack, Langley and Chandigarh, India. We are “people helping people.”

Who Do We Help?

Each year thousands come through our doors looking for help through one or more of our 90+ programs.

- From newborn babies to seniors – we help people of all ages.
- From people escaping violence to those struggling with addictions – we help people in crisis.
- From newcomers in Canada to people with developmental disabilities – we help people feel like they belong.

Our Vision

Justice, opportunities and equitable access for all.

Our Mission

Archway Community Services fosters community well-being and social justice through positive action and leadership.

Statement of Diversity

- We are children, youth, adults and seniors.
- We are of all races, religions, all cultures, all abilities, all sexual orientation, all genders, and all economic levels.
- We speak many languages.
- We value diversity.
- We endeavour to reflect this diversity in our volunteers, board and staff.
- We respect all our neighbours and clients and extend our respect to them in all that we do.
- We embrace all types of families.

Therefore, we will act to promote inclusion of all in our agency and in our community.

Financial Support

Archway is a multi-funded, multiservice agency. We achieve our mission and vision through the financial support of the Province of British Columbia and the Government of Canada as well as numerous other funders, foundations and donors.

FVACFSS - Fraser Valley Aboriginal Children and Family Services Society

MCFD - Ministry of Children and Family Development

In the mid-1960s, Walter Paetkau was working for the Mennonite Conference in service development. He formed an ad-hoc committee of community representatives who began the Christmas Bureau in 1968 and started other projects, including the printing of a directory of community resources for people seeking help of almost any kind.

In 1969, their efforts were made official when Matsqui-Sumas-Abbotsford (MSA) Community Services registered as a society. Working from a small office on Essendene Avenue, a group of committed citizens volunteered their time and expertise to help those in need.

A lot has changed over the last five decades as the community and the organization have grown. There are now over 90 programs currently running including multicultural, counselling, recycling, food bank, seniors and youth services. Archway has expanded to sites throughout Abbotsford, satellite offices in the Fraser Valley plus an international program in India.

Walter retired from his post as Executive Director in 2000. During his 31-year tenure, the agency was known as Matsqui-Abbotsford (M-A) Community Services from 1972 – 1995, and Abbotsford Community Services (ACS) from 1995 - 2019. We became Archway Community Services in 2019.

It's been 50 years since that group of concerned citizens started the Christmas Bureau and other services, but from day one to today, it's always been about people helping people.

CARF Accreditation

Programs in the Counselling, Child, Youth and Family Services department and in Community Living have been CARF accredited since 2004. The value of the CARF accreditation is more than just a certificate hanging on our wall. It is evidence that Archway strives to improve efficiency, fiscal health, and service delivery – creating a foundation for client satisfaction.

CARF Canada is an independent, non-profit accreditor of health and human services. The mission of CARF is to promote the quality, value and optimal outcomes of services through a consultative accreditation process and continuous improvement services that centre on enhancing the lives of people served.

Accreditation is an ongoing process, as we are continuously improving services, encouraging feedback and looking to effectively serve the community.

Support Archway Financially

Be a part of building a strong and healthy community by supporting people in need. You can designate your gift towards a specific program or to our Community Action Fund (CAF). The CAF allows Archway to cover any funding gaps in existing programs and respond quickly to needs and issues as they arise.

As a registered charity, we provide charitable receipts for financial and gift in kind donations.
